

Thermal Inkjet

Videojet®/Wolke® Flex Solvent WLK660081

Videojet/Wolke Flex Solvent ink features an innovative formulation and cartridge design optimized for printing on select non-porous materials, particularly flexible films.

Flex Solvent ink opens new possibilities for marking on consumer packaging, including some previously difficult to mark materials such as biaxially oriented polypropylene (BOPP).

Key attributes

- Enhanced adhesion on several consumer packaging materials for durable TIJ codes
- Faster dry time for printer integration in web production processes
- Enables use of Videojet Thermal Inkjet on new packaging materials, delivering high resolution text, logos and bar codes and 'clean and easy' operation for new applications

Custom sample reports are the best method to determine suitability of Videojet Thermal Inkjet solutions. Contact Videojet today for complimentary guidance and sampling.
